GID LAB workshops bring design opportunities and career connections for UWT students

Greater Tacoma Community Foundation and Peace Works United were among the Global Innovation and Design Lab's Winter quarter clients, bringing interns valuable opportunities to learn the potential of human centered design in addressing community challenges. Interns worked with the IIGE's staff, Community Advisory Board, and Innovation Action Network to produce Shared Futures, creating scripts and acting in "Elevator Pitch" skits for a fun and student-packed networking event on February 19.
